

IMPORTANT POSTPONEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear SAFB 2020 delegates,

First of all, please allow us to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for your interest and participation in our AFOB Symposium on Agriculture and Food Biotechnology (SAFB 2020).

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, it is deeply regrettable to inform that the SAFB 2020 which was scheduled to happen on February 28th – 29th, 2020 in Hue City has been temporarily postponed until further notice.

Due to the complicated situation of acute pneumonia caused by the new coronavirus (2019 – nCoV), this symposium is postponed to ensure community safety. The decision has been made with much deliberation from the local organizers as well as Asian Federation of Biotechnology (AFOB).

We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this may cause and will notify you about the rescheduled symposium date after the coronavirus outbreak is under control.

The deadline for abstract and manuscript submission has been extended to March, please follow the updates on symposium website.

We are very thankful to all participants who have supported us right from the start and greatly appreciate your patience and understanding and look forward to greeting you again on the new event day in Hue City.

Warmest regards,

Vo Thanh Tung
General Chair of SAFB 2020
